The diagram illustrates a semi-circular structure, likely a gate or a large archway, divided into two symmetrical halves by a central vertical axis. The structure is defined by two concentric semi-circular arcs: an outer green arc and an inner red arc. The space between these arcs is divided into two sections, each containing a smaller, tilted rectangular area. The left rectangular area is labeled 'B-L' and the right one is labeled 'B-P'. Both rectangles are outlined with a red border. Above the central part of the structure, the letter 'B' is prominently displayed. In the center, between the two rectangular sections, there is a block of text providing details about the 'PRESTO GATE'.
